GARRETT HIGH SCHOOL

Prologue

Thomas Carlyle suggested that we make the goal of yesterday the starting point of tomorrow. That is the secret of progress. Just as from pioneer days the middle west has advanced to a civilization as high as any of the world, so have we, as students, grown from primary school, the pioneer field of learning, to the highest knowledge the high school offers. We have gone from the primer, our covered wagon, to senior books, our airplanes of thought. Now, with all our twelve years of development as a background, we can make a flying start for new fields. We are pioneers again and are leaving our home of knowledge for the new, wide fields of life. Bon voyage!

Dedication

To make life with all its sorrows and its joys, its shortcomings and its aspirations a success, one should establish in his early years definite ideals and possess glowing visions of a future. These ideals and visions may be fostered, intensified, and, in part, realized during one's high school career. They must not remain unsung, however, for the progress of a country is advanced by the fulfillment of the dreams of youth. Thus to the solemn purpose of progress is this book graciously dedicated.

The School

*To know, to esteem, to love and then to part,
Makes up life's tale to many a feeling heart.
Fairfax*

*Build me straight, O worthy Master!
Staunch and strong, a goodly vessel,
That shall laugh at all disaster,
And with wave and whirlwind wrestle!*
Longfellow

*The charcoal frescoes on its wall;
Its door's worn sill, betraying
The feet that, creeping slow to school,
Went storming out to playing!*
Whittier

*One science only will one genius fit,
So vast is art, so narrow human wit.
Pope*

Administration

DR. J. W. THOMSON

HARRY BRINKMAN

HARRY BROWN

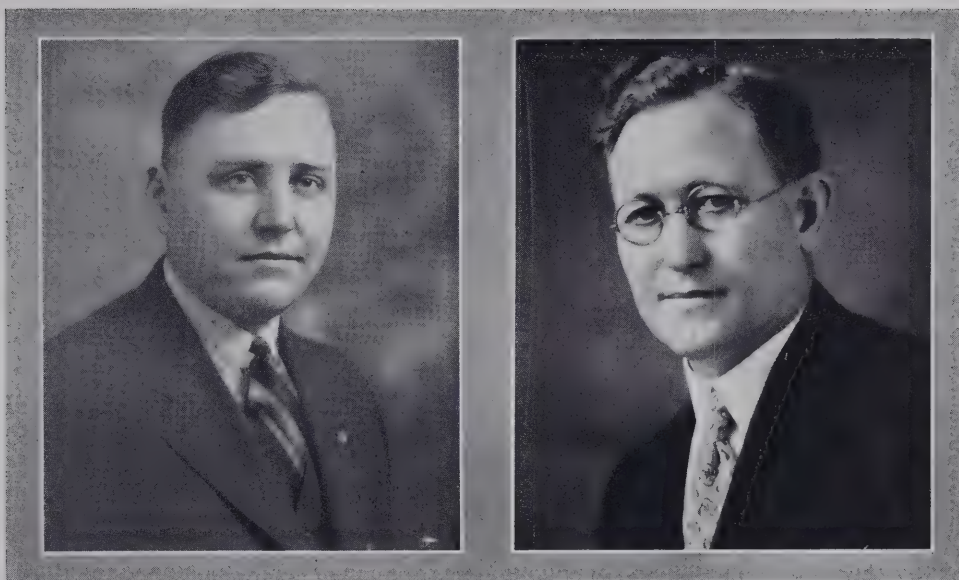

Board of Education

The Board of Education consists of three Garrett business and professional men whose duty it is to generally supervise affairs pertaining to the Garrett public school system. These men are appointed solely on the basis of their interest in the schools, and their conservative judgment.

Dr. J. W. Thomson, who is president of the board, is a life-long resident of our city, having graduated from Garrett High School in 1902—hence his intense interest in our schools. Dr. Thomson is a well-known practicing physician in Garrett.

H. M. Brown, who holds the position of treasurer of the board, is cashier and director of the Garrett State Bank. Mr. Brown is naturally interested in the Garrett schools, since he has a son and a daughter who are alumni of Garrett High School.

Harry Brinkman is a newly appointed member, succeeding J. P. Gephart. He is a well-known contractor, and has a son and a daughter in Garrett High School this year.

E. V. Minniear

W. S. Painter

SUPERINTENDENT W. S. PAINTER

Spiceland High School
Earlham College, A. B.
Columbia University, A. M.

One who ably fills a position of great responsibility, one who can be called upon to render conservative judgment to all, one who is ever ready to support worthy school projects and undertakings—that is Mr. Painter.

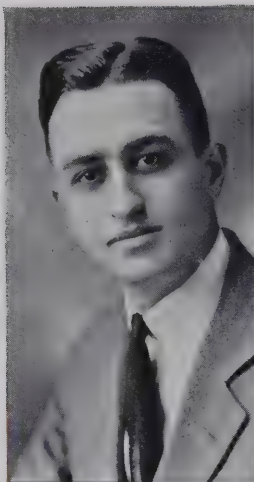

Mr. Painter has been with us five years now, and we are sure that the school has shown much progress in that short time under his guiding hand.

PRINCIPAL E. V. MINNIEAR

Liberty Center High School
Tri-State College, B. Ph.
Ball Teachers' College, B. S.
University of Chicago

Mr. Minniear has been with us but one short year, having come from the Monroeville schools. In that time he has made several worthwhile changes, perhaps the most important being the division of the school day into eighty forty-five minute periods, an arrangement which the students have found to be to their advantage.

In addition to taking care of his responsibilities as principal, Mr. Minniear also taught civics and business law the first semester, and economics and salesmanship the second semester.

GERALD BORMUTH
Agriculture and Biology

*He teaches Ag. to all lads
Who aspire to be farmers like their dads.*

Bloomfield High School; Purdue University, B. S.

Teaching experience, 7 years.

C. E. BRYAN
Coach

*Small but mighty, Coach Bryan is,
Drivin' 'round in his little "liz".*

Hardin High School, Mo.; Central Missouri State Teachers' College, B. S.; University of Kansas; University of Illinois; University of Chicago.

Teaching experience, 7 years.

MRS. ERNEST CROW
Commercial

*She urges us on to do our best
In every dictation and speed test.*

Garrett High School; South Bend Business College; Indiana State Normal, B. S.

Teaching experience, 9 years.

MRS. ROBERT ELLIS
Latin, Library

*So very fair with eyes of blue,
We like Latin when we take it from you.*

Auburn High School; Tri-State College; Indiana University; University of Chicago, Ph. B.

Teaching experience, 8 years.

MISS MILDRED EVARD
English, G. R.

*Evard has black, wavy hair;
Freshmen say she's a teacher rare.*

Ohio Northern Preparatory; Ohio Northern University, B. S.; Purdue University; Wisconsin University.

Teaching experience, 9 years.

MRS. IVAN FITCH
History

*Here she comes, trim and trig—
She puts the class plays over big.*

Marion High School; Marion Normal College; Franklin College, A. B.

Teaching experience, 12 years.

MISS RUTH HARSH

English

"Harsb" sounds too rough for Ruth.

Garrett High School; Indiana State Normal;
Indiana University, A. B.

Teaching experience, 4 years.

MISS FERNE LANTZ

Music, Art

*Vivid and friendly, she came to us
To stay for several more years, we trust.*

Topeka High School; Goshen College; Chicago Art Institute; Northwestern University.

Teaching experience, 13 years.

MISS RUBY JENNINGS

Girls' Coach

*All the girls like blue-eyed Jenny,
They say it's 'cause she is so sunny.*

Trenton High School, Mo.; Marysville State
Teachers' College.

Teaching experience, 5 years.

MISS MARGUERITE MCKINLEY

Home Economics Dept.

*Um! Doesn't that smell good?
Probably some of McKinley's food.*

Brazil High School; DePauw University;
Indiana University, B. S.

Teaching experience, 17 years.

MISS MARJORY NELL

Office Clerk

*Marge is so jolly and full of pep—
See her coming with joyful step.*

Garrett High School.

O. B. ROSE

Mathematics Dept.

*"I teach them geometry," says Rose,
And I guess he's the one who knows
How to expound that subject.*

Indiana Central College; Indiana University;
University of Vermont; Central Normal.

Teaching experience, 15 years.

MISS MARIE THRUSH

English
Maroon & Blue, Aeolian

*So very kind and good-natured too,
We wonder what we would do without you.*

DePauw University, A. B.; University of Chicago; Harvard University.

Teaching experience, 16 years.

RUSSELL SHERMAN

Chemistry, English, Hi-Y

*Mr. Sherman's ready smile
Makes school life seem worth while.*

Garrett High School; Manchester College,
A. B.

Teaching experience, 10 years.

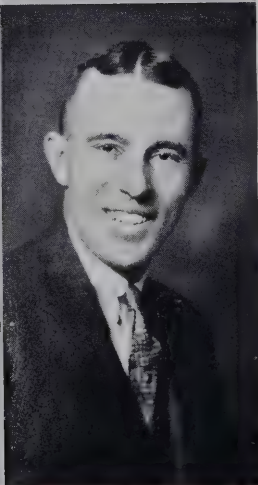

PAUL WILKINSON

English, Algebra, Physics
Assistant Coach

*Very tall and jovial too;
His popularity grew and grew.*

Mooreland High School; DePauw University,
A. B.; Muncie State Normal; Chicago
University.

Teaching experience, 6 years.

W. G. WOODCOX

Manual Training

*His scholars enjoy their courses immensely,
That's why they all work so intensely.*

St. Joe High School; Terre Haute Normal
College; Tri-State Normal College.

Teaching experience, 13 years.

The Faculty of G. H. S.

The nucleus of any business organization is its executive staff. The school, which so intimately resembles a business association, is directly indebted to the faculty for aiding the school in its progress and assisting it to attain the recognized high standards. Under the able direction of the instructors an ever increasing number of perfected products, eager to achieve a definite goal, are equipped for their life work. These products are boys and girls who, during the four years spent under the guidance of the teachers, have acquired knowledge, habits, and character.

The faculty is distinguished from the officials of a business organization in that its members do not deal with their raw products in such abrupt, business like way, but they have a decided interest in the general welfare of each student. They do not foster discrimination, but award merits to those students who deserve them.

The class of '30 feels that it owes an unpayable obligation to the faculty of G. H. S. Much of the credit for the successes the members of the class have so far gained and those which they will in the future achieve has been and should be undeniably attributed to "Our Faculty".

The Class of 1930

Isn't it pleasant, O classmates mine,
To sit and doze in the soft sunshine,
To take our thoughts to Garrett Hi,
To think again with a hint of a sight
Of the class of 1930?

'Twas when we were freshmen, so young and green,
That everywhere, always, we were seen
With questions of this and queries of that,
That we built our foundation for where we were—at,
As the class of 1930.

When we were sophomores, so true and good,
Our presence there was understood.
We'd set our aim for this, you see,
To work till sometime we would be
Those of the class of 1930.

Our junior year was full of fun,
And more than half our course was run;
Our flower: the lily so pure and white;
Our motto: "Learn to walk past failure," was right
For the class of 1930.

In our senior year our goal was met,
We were the best class ever yet;
We'd done our best and won the fight,
Our work was rewarded, graduation in sight.
We were the class of 1930.

'Twas many long years ago—and yet—
On our aims and ambitions the sun's never set;
And we'll keep striving, as of yore,
For success, and of it more and more,
As we did as the class of 1930.

Frances Caffrey, '30

From Raw Material to a Finished Product

About four years ago a huge mass consisting of some one hundred and four pieces of raw material made its appearance at the doorstep of the manufacturing plant of minds, bodies, and souls called Garrett High School. The instructors and supervisors in charge of the plant welcomed this promising material, and in a most courteous way showed the newcomers the tools to be used and the process through which they would pass in the course of four years.

Father Time moves along swiftly and unnoticed; so the four years which seemed centuries ahead became history before it was realized. Nevertheless, out of this bulk of raw material, after years of grinding as well as of fun making, resulted a finished product of sixty-five seniors. No doubt part of this product will not be contented with its present state but will seek higher institutions of learning, while the rest will make its debut into the world to put into practice the ideas and experiences gained in G. H. S.

Senior Sweater Day

Originality, and how! For the first time in the history of G. H. S. the senior class as a whole purchase class sweaters. They are in the stunning senior colors, white with bright yellow numerals. The sweaters were purchased early in the spring but were not given out until Friday, April 11, the date set by the class as "Sweater Day". The event we celebrated with a well prepared program given in the assembly during the eighth period. The parade of all the seniors in their white and yellow outfits around the hall, the class song, and the program that followed were surprising and pleasing to the faculty and underclassmen.

There is no doubt that this event will become a precedent to be followed by the graduating classes in the years to come.

Senior Class Prophecy

One blustery evening as I sat before the fireplace watching the flames leap merrily up the chimney, I suddenly grew drowsy. Soon I found myself transported far across the waters to the land of Italy, in the city of Cumae. In this town there is located an oracle which I visited in my dreams. In this oracle Sibyl often leaves many interesting prophecies recorded on bits of leaves. As I entered, the breeze caused by the opening of the door disturbed the leaves, scattering them here and there out of their original order. Nevertheless, this is what I read, all of which sounds very probable to me, though in some instances Sibyl's foretellings may be false:

Marie, Margaret D., and Reba will all become old maid school teachers and will continue to live in Garrett.

Blanche D. intends to make her life career that of a Follies girl.

Dorothy Etta, Janet, and Madolin are scheduled to broadcast over station XYZ each night between 8 and 9 o'clock P. M. Don't forget to tune in for them.

Vern and William F. will be celebrated as America's greatest artist and poet, respectively.

Blanch Holmes and Mildred Starner will marry and rent adjoining flats in Dutch-town in order to be near each other.

Fred B. seems to be headed toward the life of a Latin instructor.

Virginia H., Maxine, and Ruth H. are planning to open a tea room at Auburn Junction, with Virginia acting as cook, Maxine as waitress, and Ruth as dishwasher.

Sara is going to travel abroad to study art. Miss Willa Parsell will act as her private secretary and companion.

Frances Caffrey and Donna Lewis will undoubtedly become librarians.

Mary F. and Juanita will appear together repeatedly in various Broadway shows. Juanita, however, is planning to leave soon to settle down with "that man from the South."

Red Pickering and Ned Walters will pull down handsome salaries posing for advertisements for Golden Glint Shampoo.

Minnie will become a member of the Ringling Brothers' Circus, acting as tight rope walker. Watch for her when the show comes to town.

Winifred and Bessie are planning to open a beauty shop in Altona as soon as possible. Patronize them, girls.

Pud Little will soon be the wife of a big department store man from Texas.

Luzetta, of course, will be kept busy getting Vic's meals and taking care of the babies.

Carl H. and Lowell P. will continue to till the soil in the usual way.

Kathryn K. and Virginia M. are going to be dressmakers for the lady members of G. H. S. faculty.

Gretchen will succeed Arthur Brisbane in the journalistic world.

Alma Marks will be a good stenographer, while her hobby will still be riding in a certain Auburn.

Wanda Richmond will become a successful book agent. Don't run when you see her coming.

Delmar Longbrake and Dale Coffing will be married within six months and live happily ever after.

Bud Feagler and Gerald Koble will become leading physicists of the age.

Jim Workman and Dick Strouse will soon become rivals for World's Typewriting Championship.

It seems as though Ikey Herzer's fate will be that of a truck driver.
Gene Johnson intends to devote himself to serving the public as Clark's grocery boy.

A doctor's profession seems to be the height of Ted Einkopf's ambitions.

William C. and Raymond B. are soon to be employed as city garbage men.

Judson Witherspoon shows evidences of becoming a great opera singer and will travel abroad extensively, accompanied by his dear wife, Billie.

Jerome McCully and Jack Miller are going hand in hand up the ladder of success in journalism.

Grenivere S., of course, will become a partner in the management of the A. & P. store. She seems to know her groceries.

Wanda L. and Alma R. are intending to go on the stage soon and will no doubt be great hits.

Kenneth L. and Darl M. will probably become Garrett's best pipe-fitters.

John M. will soon take over the management of State Theatre in Chicago.

John Y. will take his mustache and melodious voice to Hollywood, where he will be advertised as a combination of Rudolph Valentino and John Barrymore.

Lawrence Isley will continue to work in the A. & P. store till he finds an easier job.

Clinton will certainly become a very successful undertaker.

Rowell Weilert, accompanied by his wife, will seek the career of a movie cowboy in Hollywood.

Nolan Lewis will some day be distinguished as a noted eye specialist.

Maurice Chisholm is another who intends to travel with the circus. He will try to tame the lions, but more likely they'll tame him.

Senior Class Will

Let it be known that on this date, May 1, 1930, we, the members of the senior class of Garrett High School, Garrett, Indiana, are ready to dispose of all our foolishness, dumbness, and other high school possessions. We know that these certain noble faculties, presented by our distinguished class, will help all who acquire them to reach that golden goal, success. May the underclassmen cherish these treasures as they have been cherished by their original owners.

We therefore do bequeath to:

Robert Frownfelter, Dick Strouse's Jewish ways in selling ads and cheap socks;

Theodore Parvu, Gene Johnson's likeness to Tilden;

Howard Tibbals, Ned Walter's Standard Oil (313) smile also the red hair and long whiskers;

Max Fretz, John Young's unsuccessful attempts to imitate John Gilbert;

Bill Mowery, Bud Feagler's perfect basketball eye;

Mike Sapp, William Farrington's woman killing ways;

Catherine Kennedy, Grenivere Sargent's interest in the A. & P.;

Leah Watts, Reba Smith's spell over alumni;

Berwyn Brown, Red Weilert's long strides in the mile;

Gayle Sargent, the sudden inspirations of Maxine Owens;
Maxine Rickett, that "Mighty Monarch of the Air" voice of Juanita Frazier;
Mary Muzzillo, Virginia Hart's upright stature;
Rutherford Kirkpatrick, Red Pickering's junior dream girl;
Miles Hixon, Delmar Longbrake's lounging chair in room 8, row 3;
Floyd Brookmyer, Jerome McCully's little notebook containing words not found elsewhere;

Harold Coil, that commanding voice of Fred Bergstedt;
Elizabeth Culbertson, Mildred Starner's lost lover;
Laura Alford, Blanche Dickson's commanding air on a board walk;
Marion Dreibelbis, all the girls of Ikey Herzer;
Irvin Lewis, the feminine physique of William Carpenter;
Edna King, "The Dance of the Seven Veils", by Florence Little;
Thomas Chew, the playthings of Albert Gomoll;
Mabelle Murley, Ruth Haver's motherly ways to dumb animals;
Clifford Snyder, Dale Coffing's nightly rides;
Gwen Roser, Mary Foar's Ford, crank, and tire patches;
LaVon Sithen, the modest disposition of Bessie King;
Dorothy Gordon, Minnie Rahmer's basketball form;
Harry Bapst, Vern Brinkman's athletic standing;
Richard Moran, Floyd Brown's unsurpassed speed at 3:45;
Betty Barbillion, the gold from Dorothy Shaffer's silence;
Frank Murray, Lawrence Isley's ways with the freshmen girls;
LaVon Treesh, Blanch Holmes' weight for that back seat;
Gertrude Brennan, the soundless voice of Mary Foar;
George Miller, Kenneth Lung's brain-wrecking discords;
Tom Clayton, Janet Martin's love for sharp curves;
Gertrude Foley, Sara Dean's moonlight nights;
George Childers, George Brown's windy expressions in the band;
Robert Tustison, all of Jack Miller's smashed fenders, flat tires, and experienced ability to navigate a Buick;

Marie Brubaker, Frances Caffrey's power of reformation;
Lawanda Diederick, Judson Witherspoon himself;
John Jenkins, Maurice Chisholm's influence over Mr. Sherman.
Ward Miller, the dainty form of Raymond Burtch;
Susan Voorhees, Dot Kingsbury's heavy dates;
Mary Bechdolt, that certain power of Luzetta Walter;
To the freshmen girls those unforgettable memories of the male members of the senior class, and to the rest of the class many assorted methods of receiving blue slips from Mr. Minniear;

To the sophomores, the dull hours spent throwing paper wads and erasers;
To the juniors, our old books and gum parking places.

We, the aforesaid seniors of the class of 1930, do hereby make, publish, and declare this to be our last will and testament, to be signed by the aforesaid testators and to be executed by the aforementioned executor. Signed and witnessed on this 1st day of May, 1930, by the

It's Great to be a Junior

It's great to be a junior,
And do the things we do.
We toil, rejoice, and sorrow,
Yet romp the whole year through.

Our only troubles—teachers,
They never understand.
Our only fears are zeros;
They hold the upper hand.

Even though we have these troubles
You'll never hear us kick;
We know our inborn duty
And to our task we'll stick.

Our past is just a memory,
Our future—hope and aim;
We'll strive and work together;
Success some day we'll claim.

It'll be great to be a senior,
And do the things they do,
And as the class of '31,
We'll do—and do—and do!

Ruth Milks, '31

Class History

"Father Time, a fierce spirit of the Glass and Scythe," has added another school year to the list of his trophies,—a year that we believe has been one of the most fruitful and pleasant in the annals of the Garrett High School, one to which we, who have been permitted to enjoy the literary work and the duties incumbent upon our members, will ever look with fondest memory and most grateful appreciation. Our ideals have been high, our strivings after them earnest and conscientious, and our labor not unrewarded. It is with a spirit entirely free from egotism, we trust, that we here record our efforts, which we hope may prove us worthy successors of those who, in the past, have labored for the up-building and the welfare of our school.

While contemplating, the thought of the old philosopher dawned upon me with new and invigorated life. When Socrates said to his friends, "By and by you will be saying 'Socrates is dead,' but Socrates will not be dead. You will be saying, 'We are going to bury Socrates,' but you will only bury something that belongs to him." Our work does not die with us.

The large-heartedness and broad-mindedness which attaches our class to all the students, will be felt thrilling through their hearts, even though we shall be gone. The forceful and magnetic minds, the manly courage to think, to speak, and to do that which is right and true—these can never die. Intellectually, our class is a giant, and combined with this intellect are characters unimpeachable and irreproachable. The love of music, art and literature is very marked, showing that great diversity of knowledge. Besides intellectual culture our class believes in physical culture as well: some of our members have made the first team in football and basketball, and are anticipating to do the same in track.

Naturally enough, obstacles were encountered, but they were not insuperable ones. Must we not strive for all that is ideal, not because other ranks may have preceded us, but because therein prestige and true glory lies? As the pebble dropped into the placid lake sends its influence in ever-widening wavelets to the farthest shore, so may we hope that the wavelets of the influence of our class will go on in ever-widening circles, until they are felt on the farthest shores of time.

A Call to the Sophomore Class

Like a knight riding forth from the battle,
So our class marches forth to its fight,
With courage and truth as its watchwords,
And a heart knowing wrong from the right.

Two years we have travelled together,
Well guided by teachers and friends;
Now continue, O class, lift the colors.
The Maroon and the Blue we'll defend.

Let the steel of work be your armor,
For your sword use sincerity true;
If you live in accord to these precepts,
The best things in life are for you.

For life is just what we make it;
At school we're learning to live square;
So just be the best that is in you,
Keep fighting! Keep singing! Play fair!

Dean Trussell, '32

Sophomore History

As freshmen we entered Garrett High School determined to receive our share of honors. Our class, although made up of boys and girls from many different schools, soon applied themselves to their work with unusual zest. In a brief time several of our members were elected to the Maroon & Blue staff; some starred on the football, basketball, tennis, and track teams; while others represented the various musical activities such as the glee clubs, quartettes, orchestra, and the band; many took an interest in the Girl Reserve and Hi-Y clubs.

Having finished the freshmen year with honors, we continued as sophomores, striving for greater honors and successes. As a result our class is held in high regard by the rest of the school.

We Freshmen

We, the freshmen of G. H. S.,
The class of thirty-three,
Are very proud of all our class,
As proud as we can be.

In numbers we are many,
This class of thirty-three,
And what we can't accomplish
Won't take long to see.

Our class has entered in the sports
And many have made good,
While others help in different ways,
As it is right they should.

With our great number we must help
Win honor for the school;
In sports, in contests, and in music
We'll vainly hope to rule.

We'll not forget our standards
The many or the few;
We'll keep them just ahead of us,
And always in plain view.

We'll try to climb the ladder,
Ascending the steps to fame;
It won't be hard to conquer
If we always play the game.

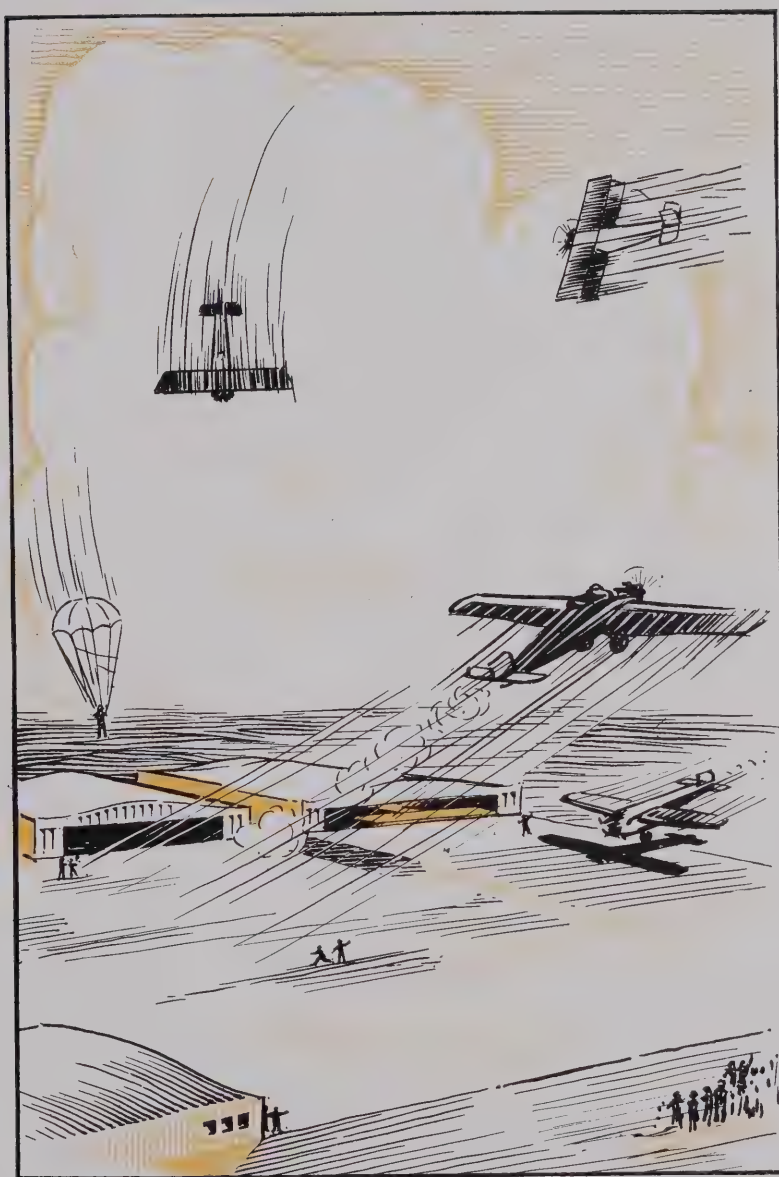

Dorothy Bowmar, '33

Freshman Class History

As the close of this school year draws near, the class of '33 looks back to a memorable day in September when one hundred and four freshmen entered Garrett High School. Eight long years they spent working and looking forward to this event. After the first strange week, everything ran smoothly and uniformly.

Every member of the class firmly resolved to make his high school career a bright, successful one. Toward all activities of Garrett High School the freshmen contributed fine material. Several are honor students; others helped to make the football and basketball teams a success, still others, having musical ability, joined the glee clubs and band. As a class, the freshmen are playing an outstanding part in high school and are eagerly looking forward to graduation, when they will leave behind them a clean and successful record.

Organizations

Back row—Sara Dean, Willa Parsell, Marguerite Kaellner, Miss Mildred Evard, Winifred Swander, Kathryn Bechtol, Donna Lewis.

Center row—Frances Caffrey, Margaret Detrick, Grenivere Sargent, Amber Heitz, Grace Malcolm, Marjorie Brinkman, Esther Harding.

The Girl Reserve Club

The success of the Girl Reserve Club this year is due to the enthusiasm shown by the advisors and members. At the beginning of the year, the theme, "A Trip Around the World", was chosen and the year's schedule was made to correspond with it. The service, program, membership, finance, and social committees made their plans for the year's work. The most outstanding social event was the "kid" party held in honor of the freshmen girls.

Seventeen girls attended the third annual Girl Reserve Conference at Angola and received many profitable ideas for the club. Betty Barbillion was elected president of the 1931 conference, which is to be held here.

The Mother and Daughter Banquet was the crowning event of the year. We feel that the mothers are glad there is such a club in the high school for the three-fold development of their daughters.

The officers are:

President	Frances Caffrey
Vice-president	Betty Barbillion
Secretary	Luzetta Walter
Treasurer	Donna Lewis
Service Chairman	Grenivere Sargent
Program Chairman	Marjorie Brinkman
Social Chairman	LaVon Sithen

Top row—Vern Brinkman, Harold Beber, Fred Bergstedt, Mr. Sherman, Jerome McCully, Jack Miller, John Micu.
Center row—Judson Witherspoon, John Jenkins, Charles Strouse, Raymond Burtch, Robert Nixon, Clinton Williams.

Hi-Y Club

More interest has been shown in the Hi-Y organization this year than during any other time in the history of the club in Garrett High School. The membership is so large that only juniors and seniors have been permitted to be active members during the year. The sophomores of this year will be active next year, and from all appearances the club will be one of the largest and most active in northern Indiana.

Under the capable sponsorship of Mr. Sherman the club has been very successful in all its undertakings. Its outstanding accomplishment for the year was the Annual Hi-Y Follies, presented at the gymnasium on February 24. Another annual event, the Father and Son banquet, was a delightful success.

Twelve members of the club and Mr. Sherman attended the annual state Hi-Y convention at Elkhart during the Thanksgiving vacation.

Officers for 1929-30:

President	Vern Brinkman
Vice-president	Jerome McCully
Secretary	Fred Bergstedt
Treasurer	Jack Miller
Sponsor	R. A. Sherman

Back row—Wayne Adsit, Albert Thrush, George Brown, Clifford Snyder, Willis Everett, Ward Miller.
Center row—Lowell Mann, Frank Erickson, Franklin Quinn, Darl Marker, Mark Fretz, George Childers, Max Fretz, Woodrow Strouse, Ross VanAnda.
Front row—Fred Casner, Edwin Dunkin, Robert Frownfelter, Mr. J. C. Cafaro, William Carpenter, Philip Casner, Kenneth Feagler.

Garrett School Band

The band is the youngest organization of our school and true to form, it is the noisiest. Its shrieks and squeaks are gradually conforming to the rule of harmony, however, and so we have hopes that it will outlive its childish ways. The band has already "shown off" twice in public in a creditable manner and it has a place on the commencement program.

The school and community are indeed fortunate in being able to secure the services of Mr. Cafaro as band instructor. He is a well known leader among musical circles of northern Indiana. Under his able direction we have reason to look forward to the time when the band will be preeminent among the organizations of this locality.

Officers of the Band:

President	Max Fretz
Vice-president	George Brown
Treasurer	Darl Marker
Secretary	William Carpenter
Student Leader	Fred Casner

Back row—Jerome McCully, Kenneth Lung, Fred Casner, Miss Fern Lantz, George Childers, James Brinkerhoff, Max Fretz.

Orchestra

The orchestra meets for rehearsals every Wednesday afternoon at the eighth period under the able direction of Miss Lantz, the Supervisor of Music. It consists of fourteen members of Garrett High School, eight of whom will be lost by graduation this year.

The orchestra furnished music for many school activities such as the operetta, the senior class play, and the commencement exercises.

One of its members deserves special mention. Janet Martin, one of the celloists, was a member of the National High School Orchestra. This organization was composed of students of the high schools from all over the United States who were exceptionally talented.

The instrumentation of the orchestra is composed of four violins, two cellos, two cornets, one clarinet, one trombone, three saxophones, and one piano.

Top row—Marguerite Conkle, Luzetta Walter, Grenivere Sargent, Donna Lewis, Mary Kate Vogeding, Gertrude Brennan, Edna King, Ruth Kennedy.

Second row—Mary Ellen Hays, Dorothea Gordon, Olive Thomas, Gayle Sargent, Miss Fern Lantz, Lawanda Diederick, Bessie King, Mary Treesh, Thelma Case.

Third row—Ruth Milks, Mary Bechdolt, Madolin Ort, Mildred Starner, Frances Carey, Lois Chisholm, Virginia Moughler, Amber Heitz, Dorothy Shaffer.

Girls' Glee Club

A great interest has been shown this year by the girls of the Glee Club. As a result much has been accomplished. The club meets every Thursday afternoon for a period of forty-five minutes of real practice under the direction of the Supervisor of Music, Miss Lantz. The girls owe their success of the year to Miss Lantz's untiring efforts.

There are forty members in the group and they are usually one hundred per cent in attendance. Of the group a chorus of twenty-four members and a double quartette were selected to compete with other glee clubs in the county musical contest. The double quartette won first place.

One of the spectacular events of the year in which the Girls' Glee Club participated was the operetta, "The Gypsy Rover".

Officers for the year:

President	Virginia Hart
Vice-president	Juanita Frazier
Secretary-treasurer	Mary Kate Vogeding
Business Manager	Betty Barbillion

Back row—August Grant, Leo Claxton, Fred Casner, Harold Beber, Miss Lantz, Donald Conkle, Howard Nicholson, Harold Brown, Robert Beehler.

Boys' Glee Club

The Boys' Glee Club has shown much progress during the year, due in a great measure to the able direction of Miss Lantz, the Supervisor of Music. The weekly meetings of the organization have been attended regularly by the fourteen members. Their goal has been to develop the ability to read and to sing notes for perfect harmony.

Although the boys lost to the girls in the chorus and double quartette in the home musical contest, they did very well, and we feel sure that every one in the high school and community will agree with us when we say, "We have a very good Boys' Glee Club this year."

THE power of a man increases steadily by continuance in one direction. He becomes acquainted with the resistances and with his own tools; increases his own strength and learns the favorable moments and favorable accidents. He is his own apprentice, and more time gives a great addition of power, just as a falling body acquires momentum with every foot of the fall.

 Irvin Lewis, Eugene Johnson, and James Workman (not in picture) were also members of the varsity.

Varsity Football Squad

Perhaps the 1929 football season was not a total success in the number of games won and lost. However, one year leads to another and with an added year's experience the team of next year should come through most of its games victoriously.

Coach Bryan has endeavored to schedule games with the larger schools, thinking that the experience gained in these big games will be more beneficial than the mere winning of games over smaller schools.

Football Reserves

Most of Squad B will be back next year. Many of them are freshmen and sophomores and only two are seniors.

A special field was built for the accommodation of this group. During the scrimmages of these elevens, which were coached by P. A. Wilkinson and Harry Rahmer, outstanding players were discovered and were given try-outs with Squad A. A number of those who started on squad B. finished the season as members of the varsity squad.

COACH BRYAN

C. E. Bryan, known to the squads as "Bryan", has been at the Railroader school for two seasons. Much credit for the success of the Railroaders during the 1929-30 season is due to the untiring efforts and work of Coach Bryan. Besides coaching the varsity squads he has introduced into the school an intramural basketball league which has given every one a chance to play and which has added much interest to the sports of our school.

THEODORE (Ted) EINKOPF

Center and Captain

Ted was one of the best centers in the northern half of the state. He is a senior and will be missed a great deal by next year's aggregation. Einkopf started his career as a basketball player in the junior high, where he led the team to a county championship.

DILLON (Ike) HERZER

Forward

Ike was the outstanding scorer of the Railroaders of the past years. He carried his brilliant work on the gridiron to the hardwood and was one of the main stays of the local attack. He is also a member of the 1930 graduating class.

KENNETH (Red) PICKERING

Guard

Red is another one who will go out with this year's graduating class. He was one of Coach Bryans most valuable men on defense and he was also a fast offensive man, breaking through many a defense for short shots.

HOWARD (Nick) NICHOLSON

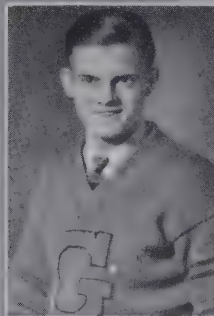

Guard

Nick played at back guard, and was one of the outstanding men of this position in this section of the state. Nicholson will be back for another year and should aid the locals a great deal in continuing their string of successful seasons on the hardwood.

ROWELL WEILERT

Student Manager

Rowell Weilert, known to the squad and the school in general as Red, admirably filled the position as manager for the Railroader basketeers of the 1929-30 season. He is a well-known athlete of the school, having participated in football for two years and held honors on the 1929 track squad.

VIRGIL (Bud) FEAGLER

Guard

Feagler was one of the all around type of players, doing credit to any position he filled. Bud did not enter competition until after the first semester, but soon rounded himself into form and added a great deal in the successful completion of a brilliant season.

GERALD (Mike) SAPP

Forward

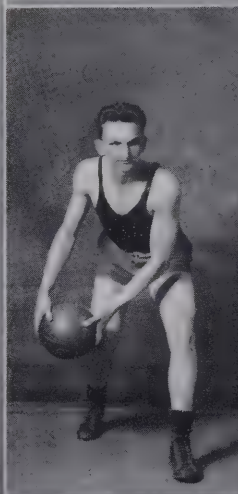

Mike, the only freshman on the squad, was co-partner of Herzer in holding down the other forward position. He was the fastest man on the floor and by the means of his speed was able to hold off many a defeat for the local squad. Mike, besides being a fast man on the hardwood, has distinguished himself on the gridiron and track.

WILLIAM (Chisel Beak) MAURER

Center

After returning to school to complete his studies, Maurer started the season as the regular pivot man. He continued through the early season as center but in the latter part of the regular schedule he was absent from the line-up.

MARION (Driver) DREIBELBIS

Forward

Driver, the other junior of the squad, gained considerable experience during the past season and should be relied upon to bear part of the heavy burden that is facing the Railroaders next season, the organizing of a complete new team.

Back row—Marion Dreibelbis, Howard Nicholson, William Mauer, Coach Bryan.

Varsity Basketball Squad

The basketball season of 1929-30 was a wonderful success. The Railroaders completed approximately three-fourths of their games victoriously. In addition to the splendid record of the regular schedule the Railroaders added the DeKalb County Tournament Pennant to the trophies won by our successful teams of other years.

For the schedule of the coming year Coach Bryan has endeavored to schedule the strongest teams of Northeastern Indiana and those of Northern Ohio.

We wish the squad of 1930-31 all the success possible.

Basketball Reserves

Many times due credit to the Reserves is lacking. But be it known that no team is better than its reserves. If it were not for the reserves it would be difficult to conceive what would become of the Varsity. The matched play of the two teams aids in working out new plays, new combinations, and above all else, the chance for advancement is given to every player of the two squads. Five of next year's squad will be of this group.

Girls' Basketball

The 1929-30 basketball girls should be given much credit for the kind of work which they displayed. Due to their diligent practice and determination they completed the season with the record of eight victories, one tie, and four losses. The scores in the games lost were very close, with the exception of the first game of the season, which was with Auburn. Wabash and Auburn were perhaps the strongest teams played.

The following girls have played their last games for G. H. S.: Minnie Rahmer, Marie Andrews, Margaret Detrick, Reba Smith, and Captain Blanche Dickson. Even though these five first team players will not be here, the prospects for next year are very encouraging. Laura Alford, Gwendolyn Roser, Mary Lou Abram, Eugena Keller, and Mary Kate Vogeding are left from this year's squad. They have selected Gwendolyn Roser for captain of the 1930-31 team.

The schedule for the year was as follows:

Auburn 39—Garrett 16
 Washington Center 15—Garrett 38

Junior High Basketball Team

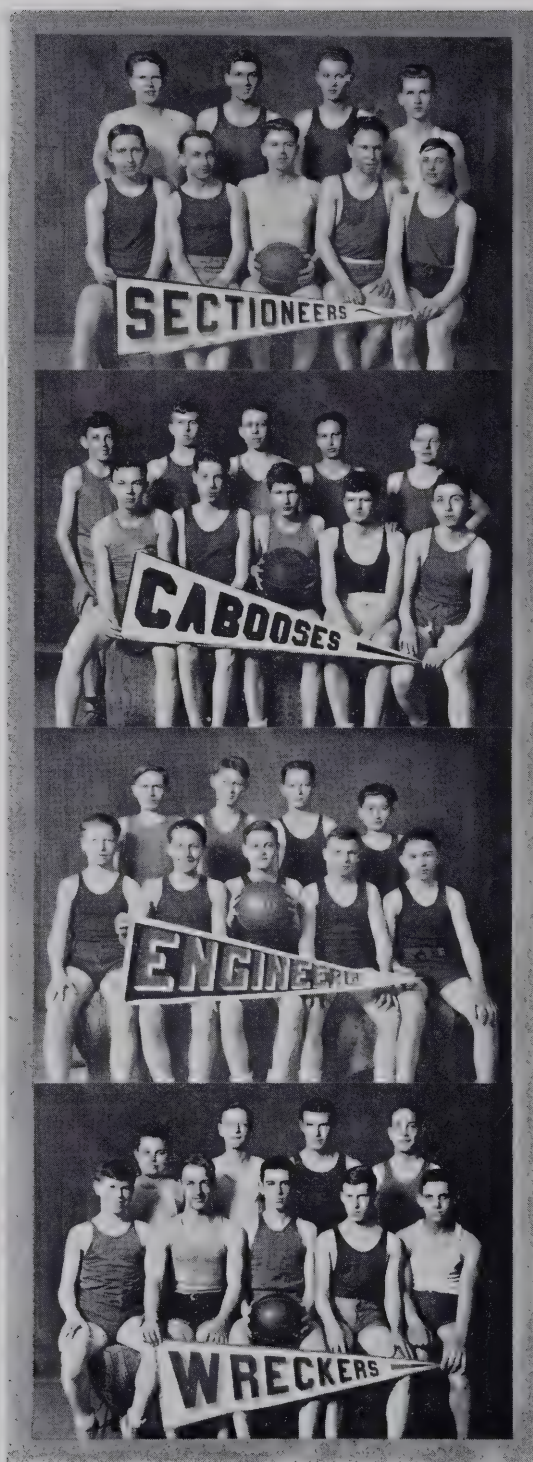

The junior high boys' team experienced a very successful season, winning 16 out of 25 scheduled games and making 383 points to its opponents' 280. The good coaching and fundamental training which the team received this year under Mr. Woodcox will help many of the boys make the high school squad in the next few years.

The junior high girls' team likewise enjoyed a winning season, coming out victorious in 8 out of 9 games played. The boys' reserve squad won 5 out of the 8 games scheduled.

Track and Tennis

Although facing one of its hardest schedules, the track squad is expected to continue its brilliant performances of last year's team, which won 7 out of 8 dual and triangular meets. With most of last year's performers back and with new candidates in abundance the squad should have an exceptionally successful season. At the time this issue goes to press the team has won its first three dual meets.

This is only the second season for the tennis team in Garrett High School. All of last year's men are back and with the help of new finds the squad should make a most favorable showing in the N. E. I. Conference race. Johnson and Micu received 1929 tennis letters. Micu was the 1929 captain and Johnson the 1930 captain.

"Fifteen men on a dead man's chest,
Yo-ho-ho, and a bottle of 'ginger ale!'
Drink and the devil had done for the rest—
Yo-ho-ho, and a bottle of 'ginger ale!'"

Gr-r-r-r, what a tough looking crew of buccaneers they turned out to be. But wait, maybe they are not as blood-thirsty as pirates, but are mere gangsters or just harmless prison convicts. Of course, these cruel, cold-blooded humans are assembled as a basketball team, but who knows the truth of the matter? These fellows may be street cleaners in the guise of quiet, happy-go-lucky basketball players. A deep mystery also surrounds the steel box seen in the foreground. What it contains no one knows, but the deep, dark secret must be closely related to old 1492, who sits grinning beneath the results of a late battle.

Oh! The veil of ignorance lifts. We are able to distinguish familiar faces from behind the grimmy glares, grins, and dumb looking features. Ah! It is all as clear as mud. Our desparate villians are none other than the male members of that dignified group called the faculty.

PROGRESS---

IN congratulating the members of the Garrett High School Class of 1930 we call attention to the difference in size between the class of 1910 and the one of this year. Then there were 17—now there are 65. This increase is entirely out of proportion to the growth in population and shows the greater interest being taken in Garrett and vicinity in the value of an education. Many of these young people will make their homes permanently among us and we are proud to claim them.

Your local newspaper is constantly on duty helping to stimulate the interest of the people of Garrett in their community. As you graduates go out into the world we will appreciate your co-operation in making the best newspaper possible and you will find us always at your command.

John Young: She drove off in a tantrum.

Judson Witherspoon: What is that, a new kind of a car?

John: Yeh, it's quite the rage.

What do you do?

I keep house, scrub, scour, bake, wash, cook, do the laundry, iron, sew.

And the census-taker listed her "Housewife—no occupation."

THE SQUEAL

I'm so blue, can't you see?
No one ever looks at me.
I'm not pretty; I'm not cute,
I've got the ugliest, freckled snoot.
They don't want me, I don't know why
I'd just like to sit down and cry.
There wouldn't be any good in that,
I just bet ya I'm too fat,
But then again maybe I'm too lean,
I'm the craziest sight you've ever seen.
If no one wants me I'll do just as I please!
I'll go along right with the breeze,
I'll go places and have lots of fun,
And do most anything under the sun,
So if any one wants me they'd better come.

Bernita Miller.

Mary Bechdolt: Your hat is on the wrong way, dear.

Red Pickering (absent-mindedly):
How do you know which way I'm going?

* * *

Fred Bergstedt: Have you ever gambled?

William Farrington: Well—I played dominoes once.

* * *

Charles Strouse: Why the perplexed expression?

Red Pickering: I'm just wondering if a policeman's uniform is a law suit.

Ikey Herzer: Time me around the track, Coach?

Bryan: Sure. Wait till I get my calendar.

Bud Feagler: No girl ever made a fool out of me.

Clint Williams: Who did then?

* * *

Our father slipped upon the ice, because he couldn't stand;

He saw the glorious stars and stripes;
we saw our father land.

THE SEQUEL

You've got company
Here's one more.
Every one thinks
I'm a terrible bore.
Tall and awkward,
Always in the way,
Every one avoids me
Day by day.
Sometimes I'm happy,
Sometimes I'm blue,
Here's a good pal
For unhappy you.

Mary Kathbryn Vogeding.

* * *

Ikey Herzer: Will you kindly step off my foot?

Blanche Dickson: Well, put your foot where it belongs then.

Ikey: Don't tempt me, Dickson, don't tempt me.

A man doesn't mind a girl having a little powder on her face, but he sure hates to be seen on the street with a human marshmallow.

Seen on the assembly board: Lost: Chemistry book. Please return to William Carpenter with torn pages.

* * *

Mr. Wilkinson: How did they first discover iron?

Harold Beeber: They smelt it.

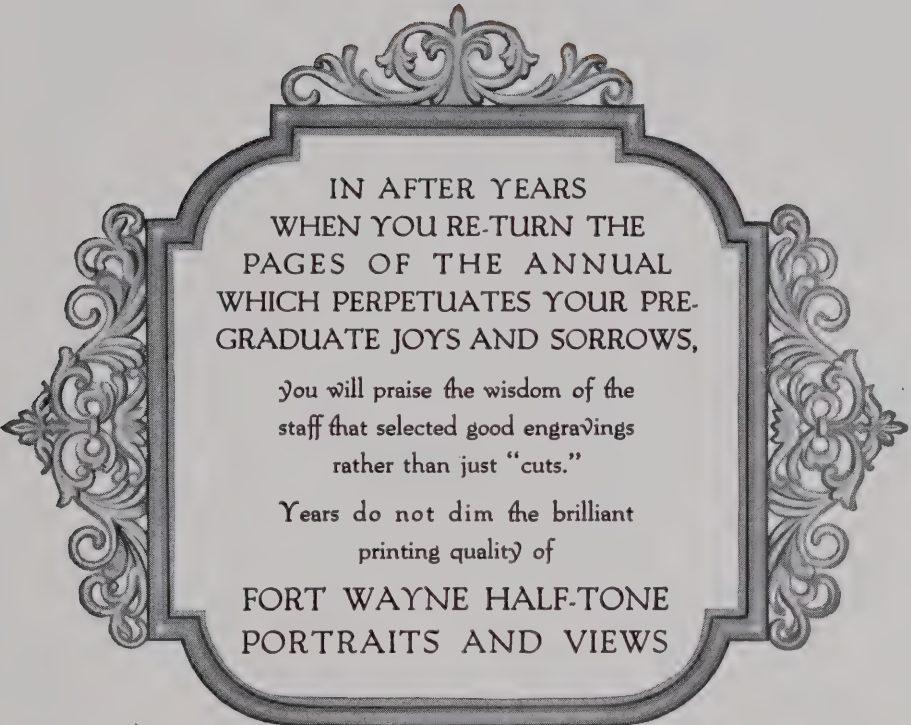

* * *

Mrs. Ellis (in Latin class to John Freeze): Just make that thing above your ears work and work and work.

* * *

Mrs. Fitch: In what battle did General Wolfe, when hearing of victory, cry, "I die happy"?

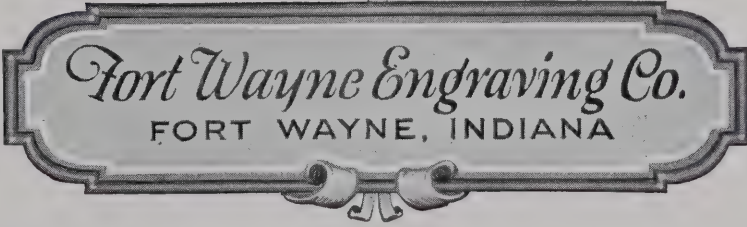

LaVon Treesh: I think it was his last battle.
